Dear All who are about to get involved with interviewing (You know who you are – the non cc brigade). A fantastic opportunity to make sure your political correctness halo is properly shined up.

Just follow the link below and you can have hours of fun in “equal opportunity land”. I have just been there and celebrated diversity with the sandal wearing pinkos that inhabit that fair country. The weather was sadly very grey.

Oh and I passed the test (on the second attempt) and have the certificate to prove it.

I wonder whether stopping BNP members from joining the police or armed forces is DIRECT or INDIRECT discrimination – answers on a postcard please to the one-legged lesbian octogenarian intuitive supporting druid who just might not have an answer to that one!
